

Brigit Rollins, Staff Attorney, National Agricultural Law Center

Brigit Rollins is a staff attorney at the National Agricultural Law Center in Fayetteville, Arkansas. She was born and raised in California and spent the first part of her life on the West Coast. She received her Bachelor of Arts in environmental studies from Sonoma State University before attending Lewis & Clark Law School. While in law school, Brigit was a research fellow at the National Agricultural Law Center, before joining the full-time staff after graduation. Brigit specializes in environmental law matters as they relate to the agricultural industry. She has worked on topics such as the Clean Water Act, the Endangered Species Act, and pesticide regulation. Brigit is licensed to practice law in Oregon.