Hacking group publishes 'full dump' of law firm's data; another responds to cybersecurity incident

Two law firms are grappling with the effects of recent cyber intrusions.

The 11-lawyer Texas law firm Baker Wotring had its data exposed by hackers, including fee agreements and diaries from personal injury cases, Law.com reports.

A second firm, Wilson Elser Moskowitz Edelman & Dicker, responded to suspicious activity on its network by taking it offline, Law360 reports. A law firm press release is here.

Wilson Elser said lawyers are accessing emails through a remote system, its phone system is working, and its offices are open. There is no indication, at this point, that any client data has been compromised, the firm said in the Feb. 10 statement.

Baker Wotring's data, on the other hand, was exposed in what the hacking group Maze called a "full dump," according to Law.com. Maze hacks into targets and seizes their data, then seeks to expose it unless a ransom is paid.

Baker Wotring is one of at least five law firms targeted by Maze since last month.

In past incidents, Maze has sought a ransom in the range of $1 million to $2 million.

Meet the Hacker Groups Snatching Law Firms' Client Data

These ransomware and hacking groups are hitting law firms where it really hurts: client data backups.

By Victoria Hudgins | May 21, 2020 at 10:15 AM

In nearly six months, at least seven law firms have been infiltrated by ransomware, according to media reports. Of the attacks, hacker groups Maze and REvil have taken responsibility for them all.

ARKANSAS RULES OF PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT

The Water We Swim In

(a) A lawyer shall not reveal information relating to representation of a client unless the client gives informed consent, the disclosure is impliedly authorized in order to carry out the representation or the disclosure is permitted by paragraph (b). Model Rules of Professional Conduct R. 1.6

The Water We Swim In

(a) A lawyer shall not reveal information relating to representation of a client unless the client gives informed consent, the disclosure is impliedly authorized in order to carry out the representation or the disclosure is permitted by paragraph (b). Ark. R. Prof. Conduct R. 1.6

(c) A lawyer shall make reasonable efforts to prevent the inadvertent or unauthorized disclosure of, or unauthorized access to, information relating to the representation of a client. Ark. R. Prof. Conduct R. 1.6(c)

The Water We Swim In

(a) A lawyer shall not reveal information relating to representation of a client unless the client gives informed consent, the disclosure is impliedly authorized in order to carry out the representation or the disclosure is permitted by paragraph (b). Ark. R. Prof. Conduct R. 1.6

(c) A lawyer shall make reasonable efforts to prevent the inadvertent or unauthorized disclosure of, or unauthorized access to, information relating to the representation of a client. Ark. R. Prof. Conduct R. 1.6(c)

The Water We Swim In

[18] Paragraph (c) requires a lawyer to act competently to safeguard information relating to the representation of a client against unauthorized access by third parties and against inadvertent or unauthorized disclosure by the lawyer or other persons who are participating in the representation of the client or who are subject to the lawyer's supervision. Ark. R. Prof. Conduct R. 1.6, Comment 18

The Water We Swim In

The unauthorized access to, or the inadvertent or unauthorized disclosure of, information relating to the representation of a client does not constitute a violation of paragraph (c) if the lawyer has made reasonable efforts to prevent the access or disclosure. Ark. R. Prof. Conduct 1.6 Comment 18.

The Water We Swim In

Factors to be considered in determining the reasonableness of the lawyer's efforts include, but are not limited to, the sensitivity of the information, the likelihood of disclosure if additional safeguards are not employed, the cost of employing additional safeguards, the difficulty of implementing the safeguards, and the extent to which the safeguards adversely affect the lawyer's ability to represent clients (e.g., by making a device or important piece of software excessively difficult to use). Ark. R. Prof. Conduct 1.6 Comment 18.

The Water We Swim In

A. The likelihood of disclosure if additional safeguards are not employed,
B. The cost of employing additional safeguards,
C. The difficulty of implementing the safeguards, and
D. The extent to which the safeguards adversely affect the lawyer's ability to represent clients (e.g., by making a device or important piece of software excessively difficult to use).
Ark. R. Prof. Conduct 1.6 Comment 18.

The Water We Swim In

Whether a lawyer may be required to take additional steps to safeguard a client's information in order to comply with other law, such as state and federal laws that govern data privacy or that impose notification requirements upon the loss of, or unauthorized access to, electronic information, is beyond the scope of these Rules. Ark. R. Prof. Conduct 1.6 Comment 18.

The Water We Swim In

(a) A partner in a law firm and a lawyer who individually or together with other lawyers possesses comparable managerial authority in a law firm, shall make reasonable efforts to ensure that the firm has in effect measures giving reasonable assurance that all lawyers in the firm conform to the rules of professional conduct. remedial action.

Ark. R. Prof. Conduct Rule 5.1.

The Water We Swim In

With respect to a nonlawyer employed or retained by or associated with a lawyer:
(a) a partner, and a lawyer who individually or together with other lawyers possesses comparable managerial authority in a law firm shall make reasonable efforts to ensure that the firm has in effect measures giving reasonable assurance that the person's conduct is compatible with the professional obligations of the lawyer;
(b) a lawyer having direct supervisory authority over the nonlawyer shall make reasonable efforts to ensure that the person's conduct is compatible with the professional obligations of the lawyer; and
(c) a lawyer shall be responsible for conduct of such a person that would be a violation of the Rules of Professional Conduct if engaged in by a lawyer if:

(1) the lawyer orders or, with the knowledge of the specific conduct, ratifies the conduct involved; or

(2) the lawyer is a partner or has comparable managerial authority in the law firm in which the person is employed, or has the direct supervisory authority over the person, and knows of the conduct at a time when its consequences can be avoided or mitigated but fails to take reasonable remedial action. Ark. R. Prof. Conduct Rule 5.3.

The Water We Swim In

[2] Lawyers generally employ assistants in their practice, including secretaries, investigators, law student interns, and paraprofessionals. Such assistants, whether employees or independent contractors, act for the lawyer in rendition of the lawyer's professional services. A lawyer must give such assistants appropriate instruction and supervision concerning the ethical aspects of their employment, particularly regarding the obligation not to disclose information relating to representation of the client, and should be responsible for their work product. The measures employed in supervising nonlawyers should take account of the fact that they do not have legal training and are not subject to professional discipline. Ark. R. Prof. Conduct Rule 5.3, Comment 2.

The Water We Swim In

[3] A lawyer may use nonlawyers outside the firm to assist the lawyer in rendering legal services to the client. Examples include the retention of an investigative or paraprofessional service, hiring a document management company to create and maintain a database for complex litigation, sending client documents to a third party for printing or scanning, and using an Internet-based service to store client information. When using such services outside the firm, a lawyer must make reasonable efforts to ensure that the services are provided in a manner that is compatible with the lawyer's professional obligations. Ark. R. Prof. Conduct Rule 5.3, Comment 3.
